Eighteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

July 31, 2011

In Nomini Domini,

In the Name of the Lord

There is much to be grateful for in the days ahead. It was a joy to be able to go to Sioux Falls, for the Dedication of the new altar and celebration of re-opening of our Cathedral of St. Joseph. It is an amazing place of beauty; a place of prayer and pilgrimage, a beacon of hope for generations to come. I was very aware of the sacred space, a place special to me, for I was ordained a priest there. It was a joy to see so many priests, many of whom had served here at Sacred Heart. They filled me with joy and enthusiasm for the priesthood. This weekend we welcome to Sacred Heart our new parochial vicar, Fr. Shaun Haggerty, I am delighted and grateful for his help. He has a love for the Church and the city of Aberdeen that will be quickly evident. We also welcome back to Aberdeen and Westport, Fr. Tom Anderson. Fr. Anderson is my seminary classmate, and we are thankful for his return to the Newman Center and Sacred Heart, Westport. Next Thursday, is the Feast of St. John Vianney, and the diocese will rejoice again in the ordination of five new priests. One of them will be Fr. Jordan Sampson, whom we welcome with joy to Aberdeen, and we congratulate our sister parish of St. Mary's on their new priest.

God is Good! and so are You!

Peace!

Father Shane D. Stevens

PRAYER FOR RELIEF FROM FLOODING AND FOR SUPPORT FOR THOSE AFFLICTED

Almighty God, creator of heaven and earth,
 Look upon us with love and mercy.
 In the midst of storms, Jesus reassured His disciples by His presence and called them to trust in Him and to not be afraid.
 Strengthen our faith in this time of risk and worry.

Give us the favorable weather we need to deliver us from the dangers of flooding.
 Give us the wisdom we need to manage well the waters already fallen.

Be with our brothers and sisters
 who are confronting the devastating impact of flooding waters.
 Grant them the comfort in their suffering:
 When afraid, give them courage,
 When dejected, give them hope,
 When afflicted, give them patience,
 When displaced, give them consolation,
 When alone, assure them of the support of us all.

With faith and confidence we offer our prayer to you through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen.
