In Nomini Domini,

In the Name of the Lord

Dear Parish Family,

We are painfully aware of the need for new-evangelization and re-evangelization in our world. Blessed John Paul II, called for a new-evangelization of the world. And our current Holy Father, Benedict XVI has called us to a re-evangelization in those places that already have heard the Gospel. We know that this is needed, since sadly in some places in our nation only 33% of Roman Catholics attend Sunday Mass. The statistics are better here in our Diocese, however we can not give up the call to make known to all the world, Jesus Christ. So how, can this work of evangelization take place?

The letter of Pope John Paul II Novo Millennio Ineunte reminds us that the program for the New Evangelization is contained in the Gospels. There are seven pastoral priorities in the call to holiness.

1. prayer in the Church
2. Sunday Mass
3. Penance/Confession
4. the primacy of grace (not just our own efforts)
5. listening to the Word proclaiming the Word.

Bishop Swain has asked us, his priests, to seriously pray and undertake the task of the New-Evangelization in our Diocese. I ask you to consider how you can be a part of such a great work; the work of proclaiming boldly the reality of Jesus Christ, fully alive in His Church! Shame on us, for being so lazy and lukewarm! Look how Christians around the world suffer for their faith. We complain about the Mass time, or Father's boring sermon, or the music does not suit my taste etc. etc. Rubbish, silly rubbish!! Each of us, must invite others to faith, one by one, brick by brick the Church is built up. I dare you to invite someone to Mass next week, who knows they just might like it.

Peace to you and yours, Fr. Shane D. Stevens

DISPELLING MYTHS ABOUT CHURCH MUSIC

Myth 1. When it comes to music, there's no debating taste

Many people think that the choice of music for Mass is just up to the pastor and his musicians. Some parishes have more traditional music, others more contemporary. Many parishes have a little bit of everything under the sun.

Most Catholics know that there are laws which govern church structure and worship, but many are not aware that the popes often have set down rules for what music is admissible in church worship.

In 1967 the Vatican issued Musicam Sacram as the musical legislation binding in the Catholic Church since the Second Vatican Council.

Music for the Mass is not arbitrary. Certain texts are designed by their very nature to be sung, such as the Alleluia. Others, although they may be recited, lend themselves to congregational or choral singing, such as the responses and the ordinary texts of the Mass like the gloria.

The church does not issue blacklists stating that certain songs are prohibited, but she does offer general principles in her liturgical documents. While the treasury of sacred music is broad indeed, what is sung at Mass must be consistent not with the tastes of liturgy planners, but with the celebration itself. Bishops and pastors may rule that certain selections are inappropriate based on their content, associations, or irrelevance. Music at Mass is not based on what we like, but on what is appropriate for the celebration.
